Diocesan Website Improvements

Some of you may be aware that the Diocesan Website has been having difficulties. The website developers are currently working on a solution. As a result, they have been unable to update forms for a while and the links to other parish websites have disappeared. In the meantime, the weekly newsletter is working and they will get any information and updates out via this until things get sorted. Please get in touch with the Diocese if you are unsure of what are the most current forms in use and they will try and give you what you need.

A Parish magazine will be published in July. Please send items to Nicki at the Parish Office by Monday 25th June or as soon as possible.
